CITY HELD ACCOUNTABLE FOR SIDEWALK SAFETY NEGLIGENCE

In an unfortunate incident involving a fall, a local woman received compensation for injuries sustained, and a local municipality was held accountable for negligence in maintaining public road safety.

Based on a thorough assessment of the situation by Marasco & Nesselbush Attorney Ryan P. Kelley, the city was held liable to our client for her injuries and damages. Still, the real win was holding the city responsible for allowing a public walkway to remain so neglected that it became dangerous.

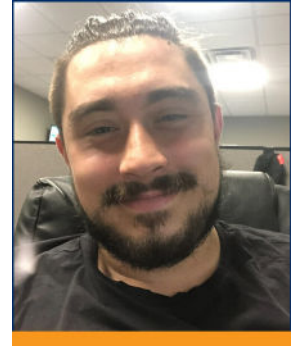

With the client in mind, Attorney Kelley accomplished something unique. Despite initial resistance from the city, Kelley insisted on including a primary settlement condition that called for immediate sidewalk repair. The city fulfilled the settlement condition, and the sidewalk was restored. The sidewalk is now safer for kids to ride their bikes, for families to explore and walk their dogs, and for professionals who enjoy an on-foot commute.

We are pleased to have won in the name of safety, creating a better community for the client and other area residents to enjoy without fear of injury. ⚖️

PETER GRAHAM

Named Employee of the Quarter for Q2 2022

Marasco & Nesselbush is proud to recognize Peter as employee of the quarter for the second quarter of 2022. As one of the Team Leads in the Medical Records department, Peter is always available to answer questions and offer support and guidance to his teammates. When he is not helping his team reach their goals, you can find Peter around the office lending a hand to anyone who may need it. Peter is a constant source of positivity and is known for always reminding people how much they are appreciated.

In his spare time, Peter enjoys traveling, hanging out with friends, and spending time with his cat. 🐾

Marasco & Nesselbush

Named Rhode Island Best Place to Work

Marasco & Nesselbush was named a Rhode Island Best Place to work for the seventh consecutive year by Providence Business News. On June 8th, at an awards ceremony at the Crowne Plaza Hotel in Warwick sponsored by PBN, Marasco & Nesselbush was recognized for this achievement.

“It is a great honor to be a top-ranked law firm on Providence Business News’ list of Best Places to Work in Rhode Island for the seventh straight year,” said firm co-founder Joseph Marasco. “Our commitment to

FALMOUTH ROAD RACE

This year, the Marasco & Nesselbush Charitable Foundation was happy to support a local high school athlete, Stella, who ran the Falmouth Road Race. Stella finished the 7-mile course from Woods Hole to Falmouth Heights in 1 hour and 20 minutes. Her team raised over $7,000 for the Dana-Farber Cancer Institute.

HIGHER GROUND INTERNATIONAL

In July, the Marasco & Nesselbush Charitable Foundation partnered with the charity organization, Higher Ground International, in support of their Women's Breast and Cervical Cancer Health Conference.

This event took place at the PTCA Auditorium in Providence and included self-care activities, presentations from medical professionals, and an option to sign up for Cancer screenings.

improving the lives of our clients by fostering an excellent workplace for our team of skilled attorneys and support staff has always been our top priority, which we achieve through the kindness, compassion, and respect we show for one another.”

The Best Places to Work in Rhode Island award winners were judged based on confidential surveys of employees and management reports compiled by Best Companies Group. These surveys included evaluating employee treatment, benefits and policies, and work-life satisfaction.

“I’m thrilled by the news,” says Marasco & Nesselbush partner and co-founder Donna Nesselbush. “It is a privilege to be part of such a close and supportive team of like-minded individuals working together to serve our clients and community.”
